
Fatima Fertilizer creative pitch · Case 1

Salam Kissan 2026

The farmer answers the salute.

1 The brief · 2 Seven years on YouTube · 3 What commenters say
4 Who else marks the day · 5 The Big Idea · 6 The campaign

Internal working draft · 16 September 2026 · verified evidence only; translations labelled; brand insight provisional

What Fatima is asking for

THE CONCEPT AND 360° CAMPAIGN MUST

1. Celebrate Pakistan's farmers and their contribution towards the country
2. Strengthen Sarsabz's position as the pioneer and champion of the Salam Kissan movement
3. Connect with both rural and urban audiences, especially the younger generation
4. Create relevance beyond a single day and transform Salam Kissan into a nationwide movement

GOAL: MAKE RURAL AND URBAN AUDIENCES UNDERSTAND

1. The importance of farmers in our daily lives
2. The contribution of agriculture towards Pakistan's economy
3. The role played by Sarsabz in celebrating and empowering the farming community

TOUCHPOINTS THE BRIEF NAMES

ATL, BTL, PR, Events, On-Ground Activations

Background: Salam Kissan began in 2019; celebrated on 18 December with a 360° campaign (p12).

The ask in the client's words: “strengthening our ownership of the cause”, beyond a single day, rural and urban, especially the young.

Salam Kissan lives on one day, and the farmer rarely speaks

Year	Uploads	Views	Biggest upload
2019	19	2.2M	Salam Kissan A Tribute to Farmers of the World by (2.1M)
2020	26	2.5M	Time to Appreciate the Unsung Heroes, Kissan! Sala (479K)
2021	6	14.2M	Salam Kissan 2021 Kissan Day A Tribute to Farmer (13.1M)
2022	4	6.5M	Salam Kissan 2022 Kissan Day 18th Dec A Tribute (6.5M)
2023	7	23.6M	Salam Kissan Kissan Day 18th Dec A Tribute to Fa (22.6M)
2024	3	13.7M	Leading Sustainable Change for Pakistan Fatima Fer (13.7M)
2025	11	15.7M	Salam Kissan 2025 Kissan Day 18th Dec A Tribute (5.4M)

WHO SPEAKS, OF 76 UPLOADS

Nobody spoken (anthems, shorts): 17
Celebrities: 21 · Politicians: 9
Farmers: 16, of which 7 are product testimonials
2020: 10 celebrities and 5 ministers celebrating Kissan Day.
2024: no anthem-length film. 2025: 5 3D/AI-animated farmer shorts.

60 of 76 uploads (79%) sit between 1 Dec and 15 Jan. A farmer speaks in 9; celebrities and politicians in 30.

Source: all 76 Salam Kissan / Kissan Day uploads on @Sarsabz, 2019-2025, coded from thumbnails, titles and descriptions, not watched end to end (archive/). Views on a brand channel are mostly paid weight.

Pride in family, response to the music, few but pointed complaints

PRIDE IN FAMILY

"I feel proud because my father is farmer." 2019, 123 likes

"I'm daughter of farmer. My grandfather was a farmer. And I'm proud of it." 2019

"Although I am not a farmers but every Sarsabz ad is mind blowing!" 2021, 18 likes

THE MUSIC · 103 COMMENTS

"Heart touching lyrics, and a very emotional tune." 2019, 39 likes

"magical background voice of Mai Dhairi" 2021, 15 likes

"We need to make this permanent not temporary." 2019, 87 likes

COMPLAINTS · 19 OF 1,516

"کسانوں کو کھاد نہیں مل رہی" 2023 (our translation: farmers aren't getting fertilizer)

"کاش اس ملک میں کسان کی قدر ہوتی" 2022, 38 likes (our translation: if only farmers were valued in this country)

"khaad nayaab ho cuki hy" 2022 (our translation: fertilizer has become unavailable)

The people who write back talk about their own father, not about farmers in general.

Where the comments are, and what inflates them

Upload	Comments
2019 anthem	300
2021 anthem	177
2022 anthem	116
2023 anthem	829

Eight 2025 uploads (audience) 61

READ WITH CARE

2023: 31 channel replies telling winners to email their details, e.g. “Congratulations on winning! Please email your complete details”.

2023: 24 visitors say they came from creator vlogs, e.g. “Who is here after ducky Bahi vlog”.

2025: four accounts active on 5+ of the 8 uploads wrote 35 of the 61 audience comments.

2019: one account posted “Fatima Group is Fraud Gang” 23 times.

2019: Indian viewers found the anthem during India's farmer protests: “Who is here after injustice to indian farmers” (122 likes).

The four anthems hold 1,422 of 1,572 comments. The 2023 thread was driven by a giveaway and creator referrals as well as the film.

The salute is open to anyone, including the name

Brand	What was found
Syngenta Pakistan	2023 11s 124K; 2023 60s 399K; 2024 70s 689K; 2024 6s 32K · #MaiKisanHun (2023)
JPL Pakistan	3 executive tributes titled “Salam Kissan - A tribute to f...” (Dec 2020)
Rizq Foods	“Salam Kisan Kisan Day Pakistan Rizq foods” (Dec 2025)
Barket Fertilizers	“Kissan Day - Kisan Ki Azmat Faslon Mein Barket” (Dec 2023)
BaKhabar Kissan	Kissan Day film every year 2019-2022
FFC	Only a third-party upload of a regional manager's Farmer's Day speech
Sarsabz	43 of the 168 search results titled for the day or Salam Kissan

THE CRITIC

“18 december kisan day sirf tv show per kisan Haqeeqat main rull gia pakistan ka kisan”
(our translation: Kissan Day is only on TV shows; in reality Pakistan's farmer is ruined)
DIGITAL KISAN Pakistan, 18 Dec 2022.
The press: Express News and BOL name Fatima in Kissan Day programmes; GNN, SAMAA, Aaj and Neo name no brand in their titles.

Syngenta runs December Kisan Day films, and JPL and Rizq Foods use the Salam Kissan name. No FFC or Engro campaign was found.

Source: 7 YouTube searches, 254 videos; metadata for 36 non-Sarsabz uploads, 16 Sep 2026 (scan/). Search rank is not a census; TikTok and Facebook not covered; brand-channel views mostly paid.

The Big Idea

Consumer insight + Category insight + Brand insight
Three single lines, combined into one organising thought.

What the audience feels, that the films leave out

“The people most moved by Salam Kissan are farmers and farmers' children speaking with pride about their own family, yet in seven years of films the farmer has almost never been the one speaking.”

EVIDENCE

- "I feel proud because my father is farmer." (2019 anthem, 123 likes: the most-liked comment on that film)
- "I'm daughter of farmer. My grandfather was a farmer. And I'm proud of it." (2019)
- "We love kissan because my father is farmer Wo mehnat krta hn or ham aj parh raha hn" (2023; Urdu part, our translation: he works hard and today we are studying)
- In the archive, a farmer speaks in 9 of 76 Salam Kissan uploads. Celebrities and politicians speak in 30.

WHAT THE LANGUAGE TELLS US

The pride is personal: my father, my grandfather. People aren't talking about farmers in general.

Complaints are few but specific: 19 of 1,516 comments, about fertilizer supply, price and respect. Signal, not a pattern.

One comment asks for more than a day: "We need to make this permanent not temporary." (87 likes).

What everyone else does, and what it leaves open

“Kissan Day has become a December salute any brand can post, even under the name Salam Kissan, and the one brand moving toward the farmer's own voice is Syngenta, with #MaiKisanHun.”

EVIDENCE

- Sarsabz accounts for 43 of the 168 search results titled for the day or Salam Kissan.
- JPL Pakistan (2020) and Rizq Foods (2025) title their Kissan Day videos "Salam Kissan" / "Salam Kisan".
- Syngenta Pakistan posts December Kisan Day films: #MaiKisanHun in 2023 (our translation: I am a farmer), 60s, 399K views; a 70s film in 2024, 689K views.
- No FFC or Engro Kissan Day campaign was found on YouTube or in web search.

WHAT THIS LEAVES OPEN

The salute itself is generic now: tribute films, #KissanDay and the same December date.

An agri channel's title, our translation: "Kissan Day is only on TV shows; in reality Pakistan's farmer is ruined" (DIGITAL KISAN Pakistan, 2022).

The farmer's own voice is the open ground. Syngenta's films weren't watched, so how far #MaiKisanHun occupies it is unverified.

What Sarsabz has, and what it faces

PROVISIONAL

“Sarsabz gave Pakistan its Kissan Day, but the day now travels without the brand, reported under Fatima Group or no name at all, while Sarsabz's own output lives in one month and has thinned since 2023.”

EVIDENCE

- Brief p12: Salam Kissan began in 2019; the 2026 ask includes "strengthening our ownership of the cause".
- The Nation, 19 Dec 2024: the 5th National Farmers' Day is credited to Fatima Group for proposing it. Neither Sarsabz nor Salam Kissan is named.
- Archive: 60 of 76 uploads (79%) fall between 1 Dec and 15 Jan. In 2024 there was no anthem-length film; in 2025, five 3D/AI-animated farmer shorts.
- The eight 2025 uploads drew 61 audience comments, 35 of them from four accounts.

WHERE THE BRIEF AND THE EVIDENCE DISAGREE

The brief wants to strengthen ownership. The one independent 2024 report found names Fatima Group, not Sarsabz or Salam Kissan.

The brief calls Salam Kissan a movement. After 2023 the owned output shrank to shorts, and the synthetic farmers drew little response.

The brief's TikTok awards (p9-10) can't be checked without logging in. There's no data on who people credit for Kissan Day.

Three insights, one organising thought

CONSUMER INSIGHT · Relevant

Farmers' families speak up with pride, but the farmer has almost never been the one speaking.

CATEGORY INSIGHT · Distinctive

Any brand can post the December salute, and Syngenta is moving toward the farmer's own voice.

BRAND INSIGHT · Ownable

Sarsabz gave Pakistan the day, but the day now travels without the brand.

THE BIG IDEA

Salam Kissan gets its reply: the farmer answers Pakistan's salute in his own voice, through his own family.

The salute becomes a conversation. Farmers and their children answer: what the work is, what it costs, what it gives the country. Sarsabz, which started the salute, hands over the microphone.

Test: remove any one insight and the idea fails. Without the audience it's a format change. Without the category there's no reason to leave a working anthem. Without the brand, any company could run farmer voices; only the brand that started the salute can hand the reply back.

Strategy statement and comms platform

STRATEGY

Re-frame Salam Kissan from a December tribute about farmers to a year-round conversation with them, by making farmers and their children the voice of every piece and carrying their answers from sowing to harvest to 18 December.

COMMS PLATFORM

Position Sarsabz as THE CHAMPION WHO GAVE THE FARMER HIS DAY, AND NOW GIVES HIM HIS VOICE.

WHY IT HOLDS

Relevant: starts from what commenters take pride in: family, and the farmer's own work.

Distinctive: moves off the generic salute that JPL, Rizq Foods and Syngenta already post.

Ownable: a reply only belongs to whoever gave the salute, and Sarsabz started Salam Kissan.

ALTERNATIVES CONSIDERED

Recommended - A. The farmer answers the salute. Built on all three insights. Needs Fatima to put farmers' own words on air, complaints included.

B. A year of the farmer (crop calendar). Answers the brief's beyond-a-single-day ask, but carries no audience tension, and any agri brand could run it.

C. Farmers' children reach urban youth. Fits the brief's young audience, but the comments can't show age or location, so it rests on an assumption. Folded into A as the voice.

Swap test: Syngenta can say #MaiKisanHun. It can't reply to a salute it never gave. Lead with the reply, and move first.

What it asks of Fatima, and how it lives in media

WHAT FATIMA MUST COMMIT TO - BEFORE ANY LINE IS WRITTEN

1 Complaints on air

Farmers' answers will include fertilizer supply and price. Editing them out proves the critic right.

2 Real families

Real farmers and their children on screen. No celebrities or AI-animated farmers.

3 Name the brand

Sarsabz Salam Kissan in every PR and event material, not only Fatima Group.

4 Beyond December

Replies collected in Rabi (Oct-Mar) and Kharif (Apr-Sep), the seasons in brief p6.

5 Measure honestly

Report organic response apart from giveaways, and add a brand-health question on who people credit for Kissan Day.

MEDIA PRINCIPLES

"The response comes on the long anthem films and when creators send their audiences: the four anthems drew 1,422 of 1,572 comments, and the eight 2025 uploads drew 61."

Keep an anthem at the centre. The long film is where people respond, and 103 comments are about the music.

Creators carry it to people who don't farm. In 2023, 24 comments say they came from creator vlogs. Whether that was paid is a question for the client.

Reply in the thread. Answer farmers in their own language, where they wrote.

Contests aren't proof. 31 winner notices sit in the 2023 thread. Report them separately.

If Fatima won't put farmers' own words on air, the idea becomes another salute. Run B, a crop-calendar platform, instead, and state the trade-off: easier to approve, easy for rivals to copy.

6 · The campaign

Salam Kissan. Salam, Pakistan.

Proposed line: Pakistan salutes the farmer, and the farmer returns the greeting.

From the Big Idea: the farmer answers Pakistan's salute in his own voice, through his own family.

From the Big Idea to the campaign, one step at a time

ASSET	Sarsabz started Salam Kissan and Kissan Day (brief p12), runs the national event (6th Kissan Day with the Federal Minister and FAO, ProPakistani 8 Jan 2025) and holds seven years of the day's films.
TENSION	The farmer is saluted, but celebrities, ministers and animation deliver the salute.
TERRITORY	The farmer's own voice, all year, with Sarsabz handing over the microphone.
PROPOSITION	We gave Pakistan a day to salute the farmer. Now the farmer answers.
LINE	Salam Kissan. Salam, Pakistan. (proposed: the farmer returns the greeting)

Pakistan salutes the farmer but has never heard him answer. A salute with no reply is what the critic calls a TV show.

Build on the name Sarsabz owns; turn the salute into a reply

Line	Trade-off
Salam Kissan. Salam, Pakistan. (recommended)	Keeps the owned name and adds the reply, which a rival can't use without saying Sarsabz's half first. Needs a sensitivity check.
Salam Kissan (as today)	Owned since 2019, but JPL and Rizq Foods already title their own videos with it.
Kissan Tera Ehsaan, Sarsabz Pakistan! (owned, 2021)	A thank-you with the brand name, but still one-way: the farmer is thanked, not heard.

Recommended: Salam Kissan. Salam, Pakistan.
Test the religious greeting with Fatima and with consumers before use.

Archive: "Kissan Tera Ehsaan, Sarsabz Pakistan!" (2021 rice testimonial description). Scan: JPL (2020) and Rizq Foods (2025) titles.